

Deadline Reminder: Your Plan to Defeat ISIS is Due Monday

THE WHITE HOUSE
1600 PENNSYLVANIA AVE NW
WASHINGTON, DC 20500

Dear THE WHITE HOUSE:

Our records show that you have just 4 DAYS to present your plan to defeat ISIS. To comply with the 2016 National Defense Authorization Act, a bill signed into law by President Barack Obama on November 15, 2015, you are required to submit to Congress a real, comprehensive strategy to defeat ISIS by Monday, February 15, 2016.

As you may or may not know, ISIS has not been "contained." In fact, earlier this week, Defense Intelligence Agency director Lt. Gen. Vincent Stewart testified that ISIS "will probably attempt to conduct additional attacks in Europe, and attempt to direct attacks on the U.S. homeland in 2016."

This is why Congress passed the aforementioned bipartisan legislation requiring a strategy to eliminate ISIS. Confronting this threat is of utmost importance to the safety and security of the United States and our allies.

Your attention to this matter is greatly appreciated.

P.S. You can learn more about House efforts to confront the threat posed by ISIS and radical Islamic terrorism by clicking here.